IN THE WAKE OF THE CETACEANS

In the early morning, when nature wakes up, board our va'a (traditional canoe) and learn to sail like us Polynesians. You will paddle towards the pass, where the lagoon meets the ocean, accompanied by one of the naturalist guides of Oceania, a local association dedicated to the protection of the marine megafauna of Polynesia. During this walk in fifty shades of blue, majestic landscapes parade and the marine fauna reveals itself to you. If you're lucky, you'll see a school of dolphins* playing and, why not, a humpback whale passing by.

**Cetaceans are animals in very large spaces. They are wild animals, so we cannot guarantee their presence at every exit. This is why the tour we offer you will make you discover cetaceans, if nature allows it, as well as the whole marine biodiversity.*

E-BIKE AND LEGENDS

E-bike & Legends is a rather special ride since this three-hour (12 km) electric assistance bike ride will be punctuated with stops that will allow our guides to tell you some of the stories of the Polynesian legends and customs we hold dear. The mix of e-bike and legends is no accident. In fact, the Opunohu valley we will be visiting has always been a place of great historical and cultural importance, in addition to being of great beauty. It is also home to the Fare Natura Museum of Nature, our partner for this immersion.

PUROTU, A BEAUTY RITUAL

All over the world, we know the vahine (Polynesian women) for their great beauty: silky hair, tanned and honeyed skin, fresh flower perfume, and a devastating charm. For us Polynesian women, body care, with all its little gestures, is part of our identity: a river bath, a scrub with fine sand, a hair mask with mono'i (flavored oil), and so many others. In the heart of the valley, on the banks of a river with translucent water, let yourself be guided by one of our purotu (beautiful women) for a typically Polynesian beauty ritual during which you will learn some of the recipes and beauty secrets of the vahine.

ONLY FOR WOMAN / COUPLE
